Selectmen Considering 10 Manager Applicants

The Selectmen are moving forward in the quest for a competent manager for the town.

At Tuesday night's meeting, all but 10 of the applications for the post were placed in an inactive file, with consideration of the 10 applicants to continue.

Other applications are expected, the Board indicated, following the Board's action in again notifying the professional organizations that a vacancy exists here.

The 10 applications remaining under consideration have been screened by John Agnew, who organized and taught the town manager course at Northeastern and whose experience in the field has won him national attention. Other means are also being used to check the abilities and qualifications of the men, including use of the Retail Trade Board of Boston and its director, Dean Cushing, himself a former town manager.

Members of the Board Tuesday night expressed a conviction that thorough screening, through many sources, is a prerequisite. Only after this has been done will the Board then consider interviewing the applicants.

Among the 10 applicants, two have asked that their request for employment be confidential until such time as their present employment terminates. (Continued on Page Ten)

Mark 50th Anniversary

This week the American National Red Cross is observing the 50th anniversary of its nursing services. The Andover Red Cross, although only 42 years old, is glad of an opportunity to honor the services, for the chapter's chief activity during the major part of its history has been in the field of public health and in maintaining a district nurse.

Many residents would agree with Frank P. Markey, who has served the Red Cross for years, when he recently said that for him the Red Cross was the Red Cross nurse. And Andover was one of the

Margin Of 5 In Recount

A handshake wrote finis to the town's election scramble Saturday afternoon, as former Selectman Sidney P. White conceded the election of William Stewart to the three-year term by a margin of five votes.

A careful inspection of all contested ballots, following the morning's recount, brought agreement between the men that Stewart would have at least a two-vote margin if all contested ballots were counted in favor of the candidate protesting them. Less than 20 ballots were involved, some questioned by Stewart, some by White.

The recount wound up after noontime Saturday, with White

A. Douglas Maclaren of Reservation rd. will sit down with the Board of Selectmen next Monday night to discuss his tentative appointment as assessor.

The Board offered Maclaren the post this week, on the basis that he would be the town's lone assessor for an indefinite period. He is a former engineer in the assessors' office.

Maclaren told the Board that he would like to discuss several questions before accepting the appointment. Among them were his freedom, as assessor, to seek information from whomever or whatever he chooses; the possibility that two additional assessors be appointed within a few weeks; and office procedures and personnel policies.

The appointment of one or more assessors would automatically terminate the continuing duties of the former Board of Assessors, composed of the three former Selectmen.

The present Board agreed that a change in the personnel of the Board of Assessors was indicated, following the expressed conviction that the voters had sought a

Talk On Schools

The March meeting of Priscilla Abbot chapter, N.S.D.A.R., was held at the home of Mrs. J. Keith Jones on Washington ave., with Mrs. Charles Hancock of Wollaston as the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Hancock is the state chairman of Approved Schools, sponsored by the D.A.R., and gave a very interesting talk on those of the schools she had visited in the past few years.

The meeting was opened at 2 o'clock by the regent, Mrs. Frank Hayes, and devotions and patriotic exercises were held by the chaplain, Mrs. Roland Glines. One verse of the National Anthem was sung. Mrs. Howard Johnson read a very pertinent excerpt on what one professor of history thinks of the "myths" of patriotism, the pledge to the Flag and various other patriotic exercises, which he claimed were only sops to a deluded nation. The article appeared in the D.A.R. National Magazine.

Mrs. John Murray, chairman of the Good Citizen Committee, presented Miss Patricia Adams to the gathering, as this year's representative from the high school. Miss Adams' mother, Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. I. Malcolm Humphrey, were introduced as guests. Mrs. Humphrey is Patricia's aunt.

Mrs. Hancock showed pictures of the various schools she and her husband had visited, they being schools for underprivileged children and those from broken homes. In the South, Mrs. Hancock had visited the Blue Ridge School, Pine Mountain, Hindman, where a former Andover resident, Miss Elizabeth Watts, has been head; Crossnor, Tamassee and Berry School. The latter has many fine buildings, but some of the others are in a state of development and are in need of further funds for reconstruction and additions. She concluded her talk with the Kate Duncan Smith school development, Hillside school in Marlboro, and the American International College in Springfield.

After Mrs. Hancock's talk, the rest of the business was taken up. Mrs. Edwin Lewis was reported as having an accident while visiting her mother in Delaware, and was in the hospital in Wilmington, Del., with broken bones.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the pro-tem secretary, Mrs. Roland Weeks, Mrs. Edward Thompson being unable to be present. Mrs. Arthur Bonner read the treasurer's report, and both were approved. Mrs. Weeks told of hearing from Mrs. Ernest Young who occupies the "Abbot Tavern" on Elm st., where Priscilla Abbot once lived, that she was very willing to have a D.A.R. plaque put on her house which is one of the oldest in town. This is where Gen. George Washington stopped on his way to Boston from Haverhill.

Several other items of business were talked over and the meeting adjourned at 4:30 o'clock. The hostesses for the afternoon besides Mrs. Jones were Mrs. Harry Donovan, Mrs. Leo V. O'Connor and Mrs. Hayes. The next meeting will be held April 14 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Smethurst on Lucerne dr.

last chapters in the nation to relinquish the support of a nurse to the Visiting Nurse Association, in 1950.

The nursing service began here in 1915 when the Andover Public Health Association grew out of the Tuberculosis Committee, raised money for a visiting nurse, and appointed Miss Lucy Abbott. In November, the Association confirmed the purchase of a bicycle for her use. It also joined with the town in paying for a school nurse, Miss Grace Woodburn. In 1918 Miss Abbott resigned to take up Red Cross work in the army and to become one of the "Roses of No-Man's Land", and Miss Marie Campbell took her place. Miss Campbell stayed for 22 years. She made from 1,500 to 2,000 visits annually, taught home nursing, quietly arranged help for those in need, and never failed to receive warm and grateful praise in the committee minutes and annual reports. She retired in 1940, and is now living on Main st.

During Epidemic

During the 1918 influenza epidemic the Public Health Association joined a Red Cross volunteer committee "to distribute broth to the sick and to take care of the urgent cases", and the combination was so happy that in 1920 the former became the nursing committee of the Red Cross. The Andover Branch of the Essex county chapter had been organized in 1916, the officers being Mrs. Bartlett H. Hayes, Miss Elizabeth M. Smith, and Miss Anna W. Kuhn. As a result of the union, the Red Cross nursing committee was now responsible for the district nurse, the sale of TB Christmas seals, and was also for many years the only social agency in town concerned with relief work for the whole community. Some of the many women who gave their energies to this committee were Miss Anna Kuhn, chairman of long standing, Mrs. A. P. Thompson, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. Edwin Brewster, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Horace Poynter, Miss Fannie Davis, Miss Bessie Goldsmith, Miss Amelia Shapleigh, Mrs. George Selden, Mrs. Burton Flagg, Mrs. H. Gilbert Francke, Mrs. Irving Southworth, Mrs. H. C. Sanborn, Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, and Mrs. Frederick Butler.

Apparently Miss Campbell continued to make her rounds by bicycle until in 1923 it was voted that a coupe be purchased for her, and then, in 1928, that a whippet be bought at a cost of $648. During this decade the Red Cross established a well child clinic at the Guild with Dr. Philip Blake as physician, and a dental clinic in the schools. Several children were sent to the health camp at Middleton every summer and were carefully checked by Miss Campbell during the winter.

With the depression, the work of the nursing committee expanded, while donations and fees to the nurse declined. Miss Kuhn reported, in the committee minutes of 1933, that Miss Campbell had saved the chapter a tidy sum during the summer by taking her vacation in the afternoons. In a typical annual report of the 1930's, Miss Kuhn disclosed expenditures of $1,108 for fuel, medicine, milk, hospitals, care of the teeth, groceries and clothing, plus baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas. "The report covered a diversified field of activity, including nine tonsil cases, five hospital cases, five cases of fitting of glasses, the treatment of 312 teeth, and other interesting items", ran the notes of the secretary, Frank Markey.

Grew During War

To meet the demands of World War II, the nursing committee became several committees: district nursing, home nursing, nurse's aide, surgical dressings, clothing for local relief, and gray ladies.

At the height of the war, Mrs. Leon Field reported to the directors that during the year 405,900 surgical dressings had been made by an average of 230 volunteers a month in seven branch work rooms. There was great demand for home nursing courses taught by Mrs. Dino Valz and Mrs. Charles Gregory. Mrs. Arthur Sweeney arranged for the training of 37 nurse's aides in local hospitals. The bloodmobiles arrived, calling for the volunteer work of many registered nurses.

Miss Mildred Lowe replaced Miss Campbell, and was in turn replaced by Miss Helen Woodbury, the present Visiting Nurse. Along with the district nurse the Red Cross has turned over to other agencies its responsibilities for the school nurse, the dental and well child clinics, the sale of Christmas seals. Mrs. Douglas Crockett, now chairman of nursing services, says that their chief duties this year are teaching home nursing courses, helping at the bloodmobiles, and registering nurses for possible emergencies or disasters.

Troops Held
Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of Girl Scout Troops 54 and 110 was held last Tuesday afternoon in the South Elementary School. The meeting was conducted similar to a town meeting with Jerilyn Haggerty, moderator of the council.

Officers of both troops were on stage during the session. Janey Letters and Lola Buschmann were appointed to have charge of the Good Night Circle for the next three meetings. It was reported that the fifth grade girls had finished their first aid requirements. Suggestions were made to the troops as to future events.

The council, carried on entirely by the girls, proved to be educational as well as interesting to members and leaders, who are doing outstanding work with the troops. Leaders of the troop are: Mrs. John Crosby, Mrs. James Letters, Mrs. Phillip Vigeant, Mrs. Robert Demers and Mrs. Arnold Thompson.

SHAW ABOARD
ESCORT VESSEL

William E. Shaw, boilerman third class, USN, son of Mrs. Margaret B. Shaw, 89 No. Main st., serving aboard the escort vessel USS Lester, arrived at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, March 3 on the first leg of a three-month goodwill tour to four East Coast South American republics.

This task force, composed of five ships and one submarine, will conduct anti-submarine exercises with ships of its own force and the navies of the sister republics to the South. Object of the cruise is to acquaint the Latin American navies with the latest anti-submarine warfare techniques of the U.S. Navy, and to exchange views on mutual problems of hemisphere defense.

Will Speak At Final Lecture

REV. DANIEL LEAVITT

The final Lenten lecture at the Free Church March 24 will feature the Rev. Daniel Leavitt of Gardner.

The topic of his discussion will be "A Christian Looks at the Middle East Crisis". He will discuss some of the critical issues in the Middle East and speak briefly on the history of the region that produced the present problems, and will also suggest some answers to them. He will also show some slides he took in the Holy Land last summer.

Mr. Leavitt was born in Beirut, Lebanon. His father is principal of the International College there and on the faculty of the American University.

Mr. Leavitt was educated at the American Community School and International College in Beirut, then returned to this country where he attended Vermont Academy and graduated from Amherst College. After service in the Navy during World War II, followed by two years as an accountant, he entered Andover-Newton Theological School, from which he graduated.

He has been pastor of the First Congregational Church in Gardner since 1956 and served for four years prior to that as minister of the Congregational Church in Wilton, Me.

During the second hour of the program next Tuesday, three study discussion groups will be led by Mrs. J. Wellington Tinker, Frederick Fitzgerald and Richard Yeo.

The public is invited to attend the program, which begins at 7:30. Coffee will be served between the two sections of the program.

Parking Plans Ready To Go

Engineering plans have been virtually completed for the 48-car off-street parking area west of Main st., according to Board of Trade President George Lister.

He said this week that engineer Clinton Goodwin of Haverhill has presented plans to the merchants, which would convert the unused land just behind the stores on the west side of the street into free parking for customers.

Added to this area will be the present parking lot of the Merrimack Valley National Bank. The firm has assured the merchants that the present fence will be taken down, so that the two lots will merge.

Access to the new area will be from Central st., about where the present road leads into the Bank's parking area. Unless additional property is available, there will be no access on the other end of the lot.

Mr. Lister said the estimated cost of the development is $24,800 plus engineering fees.

The former Board of Selectmen, he recalled, had agreed to spend some $10,000 in the project, while the merchants raised the remainder of what was thought to be a $20,000 job. Further discussion will be needed with the new Board of Selectmen, he indicated, before present planning can be completed.

The Board, taking action a week ago, delegated member William Stewart to discuss the off-street parking with Mr. Lister and report to the full Board.

Plans for the parking area indicate that the brook will be covered over, after a metal pipe has been installed.

Mr. Lister said this meets with the approval of the design engineers now planning a construction project for the brook. He explained that some portion of the area might be dug up when that construction takes place, with the location of the brook being changed from its present course.

Thus, Lister continued, the engineers said a metal pipe would be sufficient at this time, and would be the least expensive to purchase as a temporary measure.

Picking up a total of six votes, which left him five short of a tie.

Actually, the biggest vote change in the recount favored Eugene A. Bernardin Jr., who had easily won a three-year seat at the election. His total vote was 12 higher after the recount, while former Selectman Stafford A. Lindsay's total failed to change.

Careful Checking

Not a ballot missed careful scrutiny Saturday, as both White and Stewart had representatives seated at all three tables while the Registrars and their assistants counted the votes.

Only outburst of the tense affair was sharp reminder from Mr. Stewart to Atty. Vincent A. Stulgis, representing Mr. White, that he should not call out a decision on a ballot, but leave this to the Registrars, whose job it was to decide for which candidate a vote should be recorded.

Atmosphere Tense

As the count neared completion, observers and representatives of the candidates began to feel the pressure of the contest.

Unofficially, at the end of the recount through precinct five, the margin between the candidates was down to two, still in Stewart's favor. And as each block of 50 ballots was counted in the final precinct, there was mounting tension.

However, White lost three votes in the precinct, while Stewart's count remained the same.

Precinct Totals

After the recount was concluded, the revised tally for the three-year selectman's contest was:

Precinct one, Lindsay 477, no change; White, 660, dropped one; Bernardin, 786, drop of three; and Stewart, 636, dropped three;

Precinct two, Lindsay 345, minus one; White 428, plus one; Bernardin 569, no change; and Stewart 371, plus one over the original;

Precinct three, Lindsay 377, unchanged; White 458, plus two; Bernardin 751, plus five; and Stewart 600, gain of one;

Precinct four, Lindsay 263, no change; White 395, gained two; Bernardin 588, plus one; and Stewart 578, no change;

Precinct five, Lindsay 158, gain of one; White 264, plus three over the original; Bernardin 239, gain of three; and Stewart 185, loss of one;

Precinct six, Lindsay 360, unchanged; White 632, dropped three; Bernardin 886, gain of six; and Stewart 472, no change.

Recounting the votes were Registrars Walter McDonald, Ralph Bailey and Eugene Zalla, who replaced Joseph Horan who was ill.

They were assisted by William Miller, Forrest Noyes and James B. Doherty.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Some Advise Going Slowly

The new broom swept through the town hall this week, when, despite many re-appointments, the Selectmen made changes in vital town boards.

While this was not unexpected, following the results of the election March 2, some residents have expressed concern lest appointments be made now that properly belong to the permanent town manager.

The Selectmen hold an undated resignation from acting manager Victor Mill Jr. and have expressed the feeling that any appointments made now are merely temporary, until such time as the permanent manager confirms them. All five Board members voted to affirm that policy at Monday night's meeting, when the appointments were being made.

What concerns some observers is that the appointees of the moment will, through political implications, become the permanent appointees after the full-time manager takes over. These friendly critics claim that any new man, knowing that the temporary appointees must logically be the choice of, and probably friends of, the Selectmen, would hesitate to remove them lest he offend Board members. This would make it difficult for the new manager to actually make his own appointments, as specified in the charter.

It is for these reasons that some residents are urging a "go slow" policy in making appointments that may later be difficult to change.

Town Must Be Ready To Act

One of the pressing industrial expansion problems, facing the Development and Industrial Commission and the Selectmen, is the extension of water into the area near Route 93.

This was brought to light Monday night when members of the Commission sat down with the five Selectmen, pointing out that a potential industry must be told what can be done in the way of furnishing utilities. How far the town will go, in labor, materials, and in money, must be spelled out so that there is no misunderstanding.

And basically, of course, any industry will need to know this before making plans to construct a plant here.

We hope the responsible town officials will talk this over thoroughly in the near future and come up with a plan that is reasonable financially while meeting the obvious requirements of any new industry.

The solution can be found, of that there is little doubt.

And the town must not be hesitant to move forward, spending what is necessary, when suitable answers to the problem are proposed.

The town should also move quickly, and effectively as possible, to assist the Reichhold Chemical Co. in its efforts to gain better transportation facilities near its Lowell Junction plant. The firm is expanding, it likes Andover, and the community should give concrete evidence that it likes Reichhold equally well. Some positive action would furnish this proof.

Parking Need Is Apparent

It's good to see the plans for off-street parking in the Main st. area progressing to a point where construction can begin when the weather permits.

The need for this parking, apparent to most persons, grows daily. And even when the planned lot — with room for over 100 cars — is completed, we suspect there will be an obvious need for still more area for free parking.

Thus it is necessary for the town and the merchants to continue working cooperatively towards development of practical parking areas. It is recalled that the town promised to contribute some $10,000 towards the present area, with the merchants pledging the remainder. This hand-in-hand arrangement is continuing, to the best of our knowledge, and should do so in the years to come.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — March, 1909

Scott Shattuck has entered the employ of Tuttle's Express.

Burton S. Flagg is in New York this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Flint are expected home this week after a month's stay in Florida.

A valuable horse owned by John Carey of Lawrence took sick suddenly in the Square Wednesday. After considerable difficulty it was taken to a nearby stable but the horse is not expected to recover.

H. E. Kendall, general agent at the Ballardvale station, has been appointed by the Selectmen as surveyor of wood, lumber and manure.

Many of the friends of George Dane are desirous that he should consent to managing the baseball team again this summer.

Tree Warden J. Harry Playdon, in this week's issue, offers his advice to the townspeople on the practical methods of fighting moths.

To Spend Vacation With Classmate

BEVERLY L. DARLING

Miss Beverly Lane Darling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Darling, 136 Elm st., is in her second year as a student at Holton Arms School, Washington, D.C.

She is captain of her house and a member of several clubs. She has been particularly active in organizing a religious discussion group.

For the spring vacation, she will visit her classmate, Elizabeth Bryant Hector in Coral Gables, Fla.

25 Years Ago — March, 1934

A special town meeting will probably be needed to clear up an error at the annual meeting, when the salaries of elected officials were technically not voted. The state has told the Townsman that the pays may not be granted until the salaries are properly approved.

About 40 persons have applied for the single police officer's job, but no appointment is expected for some weeks. The Selectmen have decided to have mental and physical tests first, to determine eligibility.

Some 20 persons have applied for work on the Playground staff for the summer. There is no money specifically placed in the School Department budget for this work, unless the funds are taken from other school appropriations.

The State Department of Public Health has advised against closing the schools, despite the epidemic of scarlet fever. Twelve youngsters are down with the disease. The Department feels that a closer check can be kept on the youngsters by examining them in school, rather than having all the children playing around the town without the possibility of medical scrutiny.

The Shawshen Manor is the only place in town that can sell hard liquor for drinking on the premises. The Selectmen granted this one license among the many annually granted for package stores and restaurants.

The Legion is planning to hold the annual May Breakfast May 1, from 5:30 to 8 a.m. Fruit, ham, beans, doughnuts, cheese and coffee are on the menu.

10 Years Ago — March, 1949

Town meeting approved $973,662 in budgets and $69,318 in special articles, for a total annual appropriation of $1,042,981. This means that the tax rate probably will go up $3-4 over the $34 of last year.

The police will work a 40-hour week and firefighters have obtained a 56-hour week, by vote of town meeting. Money was appropriated to pay for the extra men needed to put the new schedules into use.

Punchard's fast-stepping basketball team climaxed a great season Saturday, by winning the Class C title in the Eastern Mass. School-boy basketball tournament.

Gordon L. Colquhoun was named chairman and William A. Doherty, secretary, of the School Committee at its organizational meeting.

Charles Dwyer, star forward of the basketball team, has been elected captain for next year.

Several sections of the town had no water pressure for about an hour Wednesday morning, when the 16-inch main that crosses the Shawshen River broke at Central st. Officials believe a big stone fell and damaged the pipe. Coffers had to be erected so workmen could get to the break.

Robins Decorate Tree

The second group of Littlest Listeners, the Robins group, will have a part of their story hour to dye eggs for the Easter egg tree. Each year the little people have an opportunity to add their simple trimming to the tall tree in the children's room on which anyone may tie a decorated egg in the open competition. There will be special awards on Egg tree day, on the Monday afternoon after Easter, for the most interesting, and amusing, and artistic entries; the handwork of all Littlest Listeners is exempted from the contest, but each child has the fun of taking part. Mothers are asked to bring one or more blown eggs to the Littlest Listeners meeting for the Robins on Wednesday, March 25 at 10 o'clock.

Ballardvale little people will have their story hour on Thursday morning, March 26, at the same hour in the branch library.

players have been notified.

The others include the following:

Earl P. Wagner, consultant to and former manager of Fairbairn, Ohio. He has 11 years experience.

Thomas A. DeRiemer of Oak Park, Ill., where he is personnel officer and engaged in fiscal planning under the Village manager.

Asa N. Green, city manager of Mountain Brook, Alabama, and a native of Maine.

Philip T. Lawlor, former manager of Mountain View, Cal., and presently consultant to a Maryland firm that specializes in municipal activities. He presently is working for the firm on a survey of the city of Seattle, Wash.

Arthur H. Curtis, manager of Barre Town, Vermont.

Thomas E. Duff, manager of Claremont, N. H., with experience as manager of other communities.

Qualifications Cited

All applicants for the managers job have been required to meet some rigid requirements concerning their education, specifically in this field and their experience in full time municipal management.

Mr. Agnew's activity has been confined to looking over the applications and commenting on the individual's ability in cases where he knows the individual or his record of accomplishments.

When the time for interviews arrives, several members of the Board have explained that they will be looking not only to substantiate the written record but also to determine whether the individual's personality appears to "fit" Andover.

There has been some speculation that another month or six weeks may be required to find a suitable manager.

Church League Finished Season

The Church Basketball League came to a close Monday night, when 200 youngsters and their parents attended a banquet in the Junior High cafeteria.

During the evening, prizes were awarded to the winners of recent shooting competitions. Receiving the awards were C. Desloche, senior division; A. Lebrech, intermediate division; and S. Murray, junior division.

Team prizes were won by South Church A in the junior division and St. Augustine's in the intermediate group.

Prizes were donated by local merchants.

The committee included W. Rennie, West Parish Church; the Rev. Ralph A. Rosenblad, pastor of the Ballard Vale United Church; P. Winters, St. Augustine's Church; Robert McAnern, Free Church; and Charles O. McCullom, chairman, from the South Church.

May Need By Town M

The town may be facing another elementary school construction project, as early as 1960.

School Supt. Edward L. told the School Committee last night that he believed the Committee will be asked to prepare preliminary plans for a school.

His comment came after Committee Secretary William Doherty told his colleagues that he thought the problem seriously.

The members agreed over a proposal that a committee be formed to study the new construction, so that suggestions can be necessary, to the 1960 town meeting.

Supt. Erickson handed the committee a report on population, which indicated 319 new students would be in the school next fall. The population of the town, is for 348 in 1961 and 333 in 1962.

The figures for 1959 are in excess of the number in the September last year. Then, 299 were in the system, as compared to the year before and 219 in 1956.

By precincts for 1959, superintendent estimates first graders will come in: 40 in precinct one; 54, precinct three; 54, precinct five and 75 in precinct six.

The estimates do not include new families who may move to the community after the survey. In the past few years, school population has been increasing, as new families have moved to Andover.

If the trend continues, there will be a need for more classrooms for youngsters entering the other grades, next fall.

Contemplated.

Will Nominate VFW Officers

Nomination and Election of Officers will be held at a regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sunday, March 22, in the post quarters in the grove Building.

Commander Pratt will preside over the meeting and all are urged to attend. All equipment is requested to be returned so that it can be cleaned.

May Need Plans For School By Town Meeting Next Year

The town may be faced with another elementary school construction project, as early as 1960.

School Supt. Edward I. Erickson said the School Committee Tuesday night that he believes the committee will be asking for money at the next town meeting to prepare preliminary plans for a school.

His comment came after School Committee Secretary William A. Doherty told his colleagues they should be thinking about this problem seriously.

The members agreed to think over a proposal that a committee be formed to study the need for new construction, so that concrete suggestions can be made, if necessary, to the 1960 town meeting.

Supt. Erickson handed the Committee a report on pre-school census, which indicates that 119 new students will enter school next fall. The projection, based on present infant population of the town, is for 348 the following year and 333 in 1961.

The figures for 1959 fall term are in excess of the numbers entering in the September session last year. Then, 299 came into the system, as compared to 287 the year before and 253 in the year 1956.

By precincts for 1959, the superintendent estimates that 60 first graders will come from precinct one; 40 in precinct two; 64, precinct three; 54, precinct four; 25, precinct five and 75 from precinct six.

The estimates do not include new families who may move into the community after the recent survey. In the past few years, school population has grown during the year, as new families moved to Andover. If this trend continues, there will be more youngsters entering the first, and other grades, next fall than now contemplated.

Will Nominate VFW Officers

Nomination and Election of Officers will be held at the next regular meeting of the Andover Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2128, Sunday, March 22 at 2 p.m. in the post quarters in the Musgrave Building.

Commander Pratt will preside over the meeting and all members are urged to attend. All baseball equipment is requested to be returned so that it can be checked and cleaned.

Farm Ponds Help All Wildlife

The week of March 15 to 21 has been proclaimed as Wildlife Week by the Department of Agriculture. With an ever increasing number of sportsmen and naturalists, the conservation of wildlife becomes more important each year.

Statistics show that 85 percent of our wildlife population live on agricultural land. One of the many organizations which are working to maintain wildlife in Essex County is the Essex Soil Conservation District. In their land use planning for farm lands, many phases are designed to supply wildlife with food and cover.

Some of the most important practices, as far as pheasant, rabbits, deer and many small birds and animals are concerned, are winter cover, stubble mulch, grassed waterways, field borders, grain seedings, reforestation, and the protection of marshes, field borders and stream banks from fire and erosion.

Perhaps one of the most important phases, under the soil conservation program, has been the construction of farm ponds. Regardless of its original purpose, whether for irrigation, stock water, fire protection or recreation, wildlife of many kinds have made these ponds their homes.

Some ponds which have been constructed in Andover with assistance from the Essex Soil Conservation District, and which are used by many types of wildlife, are on the farms of Sidney White, Dargoonian Farm, Joseph Vartebedian, and Arthur Chambers. Assistance in planning wildlife areas and ponds may be secured from the Essex Soil Conservation District, Hathorne.

Historical Tour Planned For 5th Grade Pupils

Priscilla Abbot Chapter, N.S.-D.A.R., is sponsoring another trip to the historical places in Boston for the fifth grade children of the Andover schools this spring.

The trips were started in 1956 when sixth grade pupils of the Central school were taken to the Gardner Museum in Boston, but since then the trips have been taken by fifth grade pupils, and as they are just starting in to study history, it was thought by the Chapter that some of the more historic shrines should be visited.

The first trip will be April 15, and students from the Central and Shawsheen Schools will go at this time. The second trip will be May 6, and the pupils from the South and West Schools will participate. A small charge will be made but no pupil will be left out if he cannot pay.

Members of the Chapter, the fifth grade teachers and a few of the parents will be directors of the trip, which will include Bunker Hill, the Old North Church, sideration by the United States Office of Education, which has been designated to receive and review the applications of candidates in this category.

Paul Revere House and the Ship Constitution.

The funds used for carrying out the program under the Fulbright Act are certain foreign currencies or credits owed to or owned by the United States. Under executive agreements with foreign governments, programs involving American teachers are currently in effect in the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium and Luxembourg, Burma, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Iran, Israel, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Paraguay, Peru, Thailand, Turkey, and the United Kingdom.

Miss Joan Adaskin, 839 Madison st., Fall River, has been named recipient of a year's National Science Foundation Grant at Brown University. She has held her present post in the mathematics department at Abbot for the past three years. This grant entitles the recipient to a year's tuition, plus a summer's graduate study and an opportunity to complete requirements for advanced degrees in any math or science field. In addition, Miss Adaskin is given a $3600 stipend, a family allowance, and a book compensation. Funds are available for 50 high school teachers to develop their professional competence in the fields of science and math. Teachers from as far away as Puerto Rico applied.

Police Warn Of Phony Checks

Police Sgt. Robert Deyermund has issued a warning to local merchants to watch out for phony checks.

Checks in sizeable amounts have been presented in other sections of the state, rubber stamped to indicate certification by a local bank. Names on the tops of the checks have also been rubber stamped, and are similar to those of some area business firms.

The amount of the check is written on a standard check-writing machine, adding to the authenticity of the check, Deyermund pointed out.

While none of the checks has been offered locally yet, Deyermund suggested that merchants be aware of the possibility and carefully scrutinize checks offered by persons unknown to the merchant.

3 Accidents Monday Night

A section of Andover was in darkness from 8:10 to 10:55 p.m. Monday during a power failure caused when a motorist struck a utility pole at the intersection of Lowell and Canterbury sts.

Andover police identified the operator of the vehicle as Teophilo E. Grassi, 537 Lowell st. They said that he was not injured.

About an hour earlier, James Chadwick Jr., 45, 155 Ferry st., Lawrence, sustained a laceration of the mouth and a questionable knee injury when his car was in contact with an auto operated by Frederick G. Edgar, 25, 29 Morton st., at the intersection of Lowell st. and Shawsheen rd. Chadwick was treated in the emergency room of Lawrence General Hospital and later released.

In a third accident which occurred at 5:55 p.m. at the intersection of William and Post sts., no injuries were reported.

Police identified the operators as Thomas J. Thomas, 26, 54 William st. and David Bernard, 18, 20 Bellevue st., Lawrence. The three accidents were investigated by Patrolmen Jacob J. Jacobson, Russell Berthel and Duncan Cairnie.

change at the recent election. As long as the assessors and selectmen have been so closely identified with one another, the Board will, it would be best to make the change immediately.

The Board also expressed its belief that the present engineer, Edward F. Magane, could capably handle the work and that any new assessors would be able to depend on him for assistance.

Manager's Position

Acting town manager Victor Hill Jr. told the Board that he did not feel that he should make appointments in the same way that the permanent manager will make them.

Rather, he said, he would prefer to have the Board of Selectmen agree on those persons to be appointed, then he would go through the formal steps to appoint them. All the appointments are temporary, he pointed out, until such time as the permanent manager confirms them.

Following this policy, the selectmen and the manager discussed possible officeholders and agreement was reached before final appointments were made to the manager. He urged the Board, at the beginning of the meeting, to go slowly in making changes on existing boards, suggesting that no more than one member of any three-man board be changed at this time.

The only other major change by the Board was in the membership of the Board of Health.

Walter Vogt of High st., a plumbing contractor, and Dr. Michael A. Gravalles of Andover were named to the Board, with Robert Walsh, who had been serving as chairman, re-appointed. Charles McKallagat and Dr. Richard Currier were not re-appointed.

The Planning Board will have new members, with three reappointments. Added to the roster were Atty. James H. Eaton 3rd

Industrial Requirements Discussed By Officials

A meeting between town officials of Andover, Wilmington and Tewksbury will be called as soon as possible to discuss an appeal to the state for an interchange near Lowell Junction to serve all three communities.

A decision to request the session was reached Monday night, after the Selectmen heard a report on the subject from the Development and Industrial Commission.

Reichhold Chemical Co. in Lowell Junction requested support from the town in its efforts to have an interchange located closer to its facilities than the Dascomb rd. cloverleaf. And the Commission felt that the company deserves all the support the town can muster.

Additionally, the Commission pointed out that 600 acres of land, zoned for industry, is almost completely cut off under present conditions, and can only be properly opened up if the interchange is built.

Throughout the past two or three years there have been efforts to induce the state to build the interchange in an area that would serve all three communities. The latest decision from the state placed the interchange at Dascomb rd., with no promise of any additional construction closer to Lowell Junction.

But the Commission and the Selectmen agreed that every effort should be made to persuade the state Department of Public Works to add this interchange. This could most effectively be done, they agreed, if all of the communities with land in that area make the request jointly.

However, Commission member Wallace Haselton suggested that the town has a responsibility to make the request, and fight as hard as possible to assure its success, whatever the other towns decide to do.

He explained that the town owes it to an industry within its borders to make this appeal.

Another Problem

The Commission also told the Selectmen that the town faces a problem in West Andover, where valuable industrial properties abut the new highway.

In this case, they explained, the issue is water supply.

It will be necessary to tell potential buyers what the town will do to supply water, or at least get it within a reasonable distance to the area, the members said. And they felt that this would be easily done, once there can be some agreement among the town officials as to cost, timing and other factors.

But it was also agreed that there must be a decision on the subject, so that any discussions with officials of an industry could include the information.

Several Commission members enthused over the tremendous potential in the West Andover area, suggesting that it is about time for it to be developed. With Route 93 getting closer to completion, they believe, there will be increasing interest among industries and developers. Thus, they said, it is time to reach a decision on such matters as utilities, so that answers can be provided quickly and intelligently.
